Greg's report

- March 18 – participated in an interview process about the support literature for the “Measuring Up” community accessibility program;
- March 28 – I attended the Vancouver Island Regional Library (VIRL) meeting in Nanaimo, led by VIRL’s new chair is Bill Holdom of Nanaimo. VIRL is changing it’s committee structure for a one year trial basis, eliminating all standing committees except the executive committee, and holding that meeting two weeks before the full board meeting, instead of the day before. VIRL is also streamlining it’s management structure, in an attempt to give better support to the rural branches.
- March 30 – attended our COW meeting;
- April 3 – participated in one of the best attended and most constructive brown bag lunches yet. There were many questions, requests and much input;
- April 4 = attended the grand opening of the Port Multiplex.
